

DCI PASSPORT

Nlets 2015

WELCOME

to DCI's hospitality suite.

We can't wait for you to get started on the Passport Challenge! Here's how it works. You'll chat with each of our five awesome reps, and they'll stamp your passport. Collect all five, and you win a prize. Did we mention you could win an Apple Watch of your choice? Just keep in mind, only one passport per family, and the completed passport must be shown to a DCI rep before 5 pm. That's it!

Let the games begin,

BILL TATUN

Director of CJIS ACE

Bill LOVES CJIS, and allegedly holds the world record for saying the acronym the most times in one sentence. Bill holds over 24 years of experience in law enforcement, and served on the FBI CJIS Advisory Policy Board, as well as the APB CJIS Security & Access Subcommittee. He is an invaluable part of DCI's team, and is the head of the CJIS Audit & Compliance Experts (ACE) Department. CJIS. CJIS, CJIS CJIS CJIS, CJIS CJIS CJIS CJIS CJIS CJIS, CJIS. CJIS CJIS.

DESIREE FRASER

Systems Consultant, Resident Prankster

Desiree has been working for Diverse Computing for two years. She will be explaining all things customer service and support, and will give you the big picture of how eAgent 2.0 works. She loves to make her coworkers lives difficult, and once fully coated Andrew's favorite mug in jello.

BRINSON TATUM

Senior Software Engineer, Cofounder of the Anti-Tie Foundation of America

Brinson is DCI's Senior Software Engineer, and one of the masterminds behind eAgent. He specializes in eAgent for the state of Tennessee, and will be going into intricate detail about this product at this conference. Brinson is the only person in the world who actually likes Cherry Coke Zero, and averages 10 a day.

CRAIG GIBBENS

Director of Business Development,
Unofficial DCI Cheerleader

Craig specializes in all things development and sales, and maintains the bulk of DCI's important partnerships. He will be giving an overview of DCI's exciting new strategic partnership with NLETS. Craig can juggle most office supplies- except for staplers. Don't bring up "the stapler incident".

ANDREW RAWLINGS

Marketing Associate, Life Enthusiast

Andrew is a vital component of DCI's marketing and sales team. He will be demonstrating eAgent 2.0, the web version of eAgent. He is an alumni of Florida State University's Information, Communication & Technology program, and once sold someone a paperclip for $20.
